2.3.2: Teachers use ICT enabled tools for effective teaching-learning process

Dr.PanjabraoDeshmukh College of Law recognizes the importance of technology in enhancing the teaching-learning process and improving student learning outcomes.

We have implemented several initiatives to ensure that our faculty members have access to ICT-enabled tools that can support their teaching activities and engage students in the learning process.

To facilitate the use of technology in teaching, we have established a state-of-the-art ICT infrastructure that includes projector-enabled classrooms, computer labs, and high-speed internet connectivity. We also provide our faculty members with access to digital libraries, online learning management systems, and e-books that can help them develop course materials that are interactive, engaging, and up-to-date.

We encourage our faculty members to use ICT-enabled tools to create a more student-centred learning environment that can better meet the needs and interests of our students. For example, our faculty members use power-point presentations, videos of experts posted on online platforms to explain complex concepts of law and other topics and engage students in active learning.

We also use online quizzes and assessments to provide timely feedback to our students and monitor their progress throughout the semester which also helps in the internal assessment of the students.

Various online platforms have facilitated us to share with the students the recent updates in regards the legal topics that are covered in the syllabus to keep them up to date considering the practical aspect of the course offered and taught by us in our institution.

During the times of COVID-19 outbreak when a complete lockdown was imposed and institution was unable to conduct the classes physically, the faculty of our institution was dedicated towards imparting of education by opting the means of online platforms such as Zoom, Google Meet, Google Classroom, Wats app, Test Moz app, Google Forms, etc.

In the pursuance of the same, the institution has also obtained a subscription of Zoom meeting app. So also, several webinars were conducted by the institution, reports of which have been uploaded on webpage of the institution.

We regularly evaluate the effectiveness of our use of ICT-enabled tools in teaching and learning and use the feedback received to continuously improve our practices. We believe that the use of technology has the potential to transform the teaching-learning process and prepare our students for success in the 21st-century knowledge economy.

In summary, we are committed to leveraging the power of technology to enhance the teaching-learning process and improve student learning outcomes. We believe that our initiatives in this area will help us achieve our goal of providing a high-quality education that meets the needs and expectations of our stakeholders.

The image shows a screenshot of a software interface, likely a learning management system (LMS) or a data management tool. The interface displays a list of participants, each represented by a small, colorful circular icon. The list is organized into columns, with the first column containing the icons and the subsequent columns containing text and numerical data. The text in the columns is mostly illegible due to blurring, but it appears to include names, IDs, and possibly scores or status indicators. The overall layout is clean and organized, typical of a professional software application.
